

Carlow Community Enterprise Centre or "Enterprise House", is a community led initiative involving a partnership between the local communities and state bodies.

The Centre is a key enterprise hub to promote entrepreneurship in the region.

Enterprise space for start ups

Enterprise House offers suitable and affordable office space, with competitively priced reliable high speed broadband.

Whether you are a one person or more operation Enterprise House has a suitable space for you to grow your business.

Enterprise House offers more than office space. Its support structures are specifically aimed at new businesses. Carlow County Enterprise Board and its business advice services has been a significant support to owner managers who wish to grow.

Enterprise House offers

- Suitable and affordable incubation space for start-up businesses
- Conferencing facilities
- High Speed internet access
- Hot desk facilities
- Virtual office
- Free parking
- Canteen facilities
- Central location
- Security and maintenance services

One of the reasons why new businesses choose Enterprise House is the networking opportunities it presents. Meeting of like-minded entrepreneurs on an informal basis, sharing problems and discussing opportunities. There is also the ready access to Carlow County Enterprise Board and all the training and business advice the Board provides.

Conference room and training facilities

Enterprise House offers a computer training suite, two training rooms (with capacity to seat sixty people) and a state of the art conference facility, which includes digital conferencing.

Over the last number of years Enterprise House has partnered with Carlow County Enterprise Board, Carlow County Development Partnership Ltd and Carlow Kilkenny Skillnet to deliver training in direct response to the needs of small business owners.

Hot Desks

A key feature of Enterprise House is a hot desk unit. A hot desk can be an ideal environment for many start-ups. Shared business facilities can be accessed through renting a desk at affordable rates. Hot desks also provide a temporary solution to larger businesses with over-flow problems at busy periods.
